S. G. JAMIESON, Bow Island.

Murdered at Great Falls, Mont.

(Taken from the “Great Falls Daily Tribune,” Great Falls, Mont., dated August 28th).

George F. Beatty of Bow Island, Alberta, 70 years of age, was murdered in the Arvon rooming house on First avenue south, on Sunday night for his money. His body was found yesterday shortly after noon lying face down upon the bed. He had made no attempt to prepare for retiring and apparently had been stricken as he was standing beside the bed and had fallen forward. Two or three empty beer bottles were mute suggestions that here was another victim of the “knock-out drops” thugs, which have already given Great Falls a bad name and none of whom have ever been captured. This is at least the second known victim within a year.

Beatty came to Great Falls on Sunday. Had as a traveling companion Edgar Pullen who came here from St. Paul to accept a position as a telegrapher for the Great Northern in the west side yards. They became acquainted, according to Pullen, shortly after they left St. Paul and when they got to their destination they decided to go to the same hotel. Accordingly they sought and obtained rooms at the Lincoln hotel over the Milwaukee beer hall on First Ave. south.

Sunday evening until 8 o'clock, Pullen and Beatty passed the time together in their room, after they had returned from having dinner in a cafe. They had a quart of whiskey which Pullen had brought from St. Paul and from the bottle they took a few drinks of whiskey. Finally, at 8 o'clock Pullen says he advised Beatty that he wanted to rest and proposed to go to bed. Beatty said he wanted a glass of beer and told Pullen, so the latter says, to go ahead and retire and he, Beatty, would go down to a nearby saloon and have his beer but would soon be back. That was the last time that Pullen saw Beatty alive.

Mr. Geo. Beatty was a well known figure around Bow Island. In addition to farming for some years in 1911 he also conducted a business and saddle business on Bell Street.

According to evidence given at the inquest held over the body at Great Falls, papers were found in his grip showing he held securities at Bow Island to the value of about $5000. He owned farms in South and North Dakota.

Guard the Sabbath.

The Rev. C. H. Hanania, D.D., Secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance in Alberta and B.C., preached to a large audience in the United Church, Bow Island, on Sunday evening last. In the course of his remarks he emphasized the vital necessity of maintaining the institution of the Christian Sabbath in these war times. Many subtle inroads are being made upon it and we owe it to the men who are fighting for the highest ideals of our civilization to guard the Sabbath against those inroads. To emphasize this he made of the quotation:—“There can be no freedom without religion; There can be no religion without worship; There can be no worship without the Sabbath,” and showed how freedom and the Sabbath are bound up together. Dealing with the matter of violation of the Lord's Day Act, he said this was largely confined to certain districts in the southern part of the province, and to petty trading on the part of Chinese and Greeks in the towns and cities.

He exposed the hollowness of the patriotic plea which has been put up by many in defence of Sunday work and showed from recent developments in industrial life both in England and Canada that from this point of view of efficiency and output we were not further ahead but rather hindered by Sunday work. One day rest is even essential to the highest efficiency of both man and beast. He also pointed out that those who were urging the plan of national necessity were those who had always been apt to disregard the law. The best and most progressive farmers in the country declared there was no necessity for Sunday work. Dealing with Sunday amusements Mr. Hanania stated that he had no right to say how a man should spend his Sunday except in the interest of the worker and the highest well being of the country to demand the cessation of industry. The Lord Day Act is based upon physical and industrial rather than upon religious grounds. Sunday ball-playing and Thresherman Badly Injured.

Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Egan, north of town, was brought into the hospital here on Tuesday suffering from injuries sustained that afternoon whilst working with a threshing outfit. He had both arms broken, one just above and the other a little below the elbow. A number of teeth were missing, and in addition, he had several fearful gashes on the face and neck one of which, just above the eye, penetrated through to the bone. His shoulder was also badly injured. The accident apparently happened while he was tending the engine, and the first notification was when his brother happened to glance that way and saw Allen thrown away from the machine. The injuries, although naturally serious enough, are nevertheless not of such a nature as would lead one to expect a fatal termination. No internal injuries are apparent, and it is hoped that careful treatment will effect a comparatively early recovery.

Call for Recruits Soon.

Every tribunal under the terms of the Military Service Act must be appointed by September 20. An order-in-council to this effect has been passed. If the appointments are made by the date mentioned, the minister of justice is empowered under the act to fill the vacancies.

The passing of the order-in-council is an indication that the first call for recruits will be issued soon. There still remain a number of points not determined before the order calling the first class is published, but every effort is being made to avoid postponement.

Miss Kodie Hurlbut has accepted a position in the local post-office.

The next meeting of the Catholic Ladies' Altar Society will be held at the home of Mrs. A. F. Delmage on Thursday, September 26th.

Things of that character were dependent upon the sentiment of the community. Where the value of Sunday as a day for religious culture was well as for rest was realized such things were never suggested.

The congregation appreciated the broad and strong attitude of Mr. Hurlbut upon the whole question and it was a source of gratification to several to learn that the Inspector of Provincial Police for the southern part of the province had expressed himself as determined to see that the law was enforced.

Helping Disabled Heroes

A Few Facts That Every Disabled Soldier Should Know

That there is no such word as "impossible" in his dictionary. That his natural ambition to earn a good living can be fulfilled. That he can either get rid of his disability or acquire a new ability to offset it.

That the whole object of doctors, nurses, and instructors, is to help him in doing that very thing.

That he must learn how to help himself.

That he will have the most careful and efficient treatment known to the world.

That interesting and useful occupations form a most valuable part of the treatment in convalescent hospitals and sanatoria.

That if he cannot carry out his first duty by rejecting his comrades at the front, and if there is no light duty for him with the Canadian forces overseas, he is taken home to Canada, as soon as his condition and the shipping facilities make this possible.

That his strength and earning capacity will be restored there to the highest degree possible, through the military hospitals and sanatoria.

That if he requires an artificial limb, it will be supplied to him free of charge.

That if his disability prevents him from returning to his old work, he will receive a pension or gratuity in proportion to his disability.

That his pension cannot be reduced by his undertaking work not recommended by his medical officer.

That his pension will be increased if he takes up a new occupation.

That his own willpower and determination will enable him to succeed.

That his own initiative and energy will enable him to succeed.

That his own initiative and energy will enable him to succeed.

German Kultur Does Not Take Well in Poland

Up to some months ago the German press was continually boasting of the great reforming and civilizing work which the fatherland was carrying on in Poland. Recently, however, doubts began to be expressed by the more sane writers as to the effectiveness of German policy, and such that the whole of the country is now being impregnated with even in reactionary circles.

Germany has lately been opened to conditions in Poland by the arrest of Gen. Pilsudski, the Polish leader, and former commander of the legion. It is alleged that he was organizing the Polish army for use against the central powers, when occasion offered.

In consequence of this the officers of the legion have resigned, and they also have been imprudently.

Union of Democracies in a Common Struggle Means Much.

The untiring of the Stars and Stripes in Europe beside the Union Jack and the tricolor means more strength, more Allied victory, more even than a democratic peace.

It is an earnest of all those, but it is also a symbol of that union of mind and feeling between the ordered democracies of England, France, and the United States, which promises to bring the greatest part of the future life of the world.

Mightiest Armies World Has Ever

Note and Comment.

Reports from the West do not give encouraging news of this year's wheat crop. Drought has done great damage in southern Manitoba, southern Saskatchewan, south eastern Alberta. The Goose Lake Country of Saskatchewan has also been affected. Canada will have to make up for this shortage by substituting other foods for white wheat bread.

This is a record year in the growing of potatoes in the United States. The crop is estimated at 467,000,000 bushels, being 47 millions more than the record crop of 1912. The bulkhead is the largest for many years and oats equal that of 1915.

The request in the States for greater production has evidently been attended to.

Whether we are prohibitionists or not we cannot help but admire the energetic way in which the United States is dealing with the liquor question. After last Saturday night the manufacture of whiskey in the States ceased entirely, the prohibitive clause of the Prohibition Act becoming operative. Here's an object lesson for both Canada and Great Britain. If the manufacture of whiskey diminishes the food supply, and the United States apparently has proven that it does, it seems utter foolishness for the two countries alone mentioned to produce greater production and allow a large part of it to be absorbed by the whiskey interests.

Farmers generally are fairly well satisfied with the crop this year. The yield, although small, is of an excellent quality, and of it grading No. 1. We venture to say that this year will help economically to convince our residents, if they have not been convinced already, that Southern Alberta has a great future. The land as yet is mostly in its prime, but already it is becoming worn and within a very short time will be unobtainable at anything like the present figure. Those who were first in the field and had sufficient foresight to hang on are now surely reaping the fruits of their industry and perseverance.

The increase in Bow Island's population is now assuming such proportions as to make the question of a water supply a much more important one than it has ever been. The matter has of course been often discussed, but the uncertainty of getting the money coupled with the question of making the undertaking pay has prevented its serious discussion. With the increase in the residential section, however, with the imperative need of a water supply if that increase is to be maintained, brings the matter before us more prominently than ever, and ere long the town will be forced to take cognizance of the fact.

The conditions prevailing in the money market at the present time are possibly not favorable for a big loan, but then the town is not now will be in a position to ask for a loan for a considerable time. This, however, is no reason why we should delay discussion on the subject. The source of our future water supply has to be determined, and the question of the whole thing has to be gone into very carefully ere committing ourselves one way or the other.

How to keep automobile drivers from recklessly attempting to cross the tracks and by engineering trains in one of the problems just now in the process of solving by operating officials of all railways.

During the past six months there have been several deaths in the West due directly to the fact that an automobile driver mis-calculated the distance of a railway train from the crossing and also miscalculated the speed at which the train was running. There seems to be no law to stop such recklessness, and drivers do not seem to realize that it is fatal to try conclusions with a railway engine.

The number of accidents at country road crossings is growing, as well as those within the corporate limits of towns and villages, and how to stop it is something railway operating officials have not yet been able to answer.

An engineer sees a motor car approaching a crossing at a speed that he knows will make a collision if continued by the motor car. The railway engineer cannot stop. Absolute recklessness is all this can be called. Even if automobile drivers put to value on their own lives, they might think of and become responsible for the lives of those riding with them.

We in the west are now laying the fruit of property (fruits really secured from "Europe Agency") to such an extent that it is gravely to be feared that many of us do not give that thought to our suffering brethren across the seas that we should and ought. An "R.D.S." call from France is now being sent out for assistance and help, and the call should be responded to.

The following is an extract from a report just received from one of the delegates who visited one of the destroyed French towns in the area recently evacuated by the Germans:—

"When we reached Noyon and Ham and began to visit the hospitals, I did not feel as helpless as I have felt ever since coming into the region. Here was something I knew about, and something I felt we could perhaps help. I will not go into details—it would only harrow you. The men were, of course, the gravely wounded; in one ward of one hospital they were all penniless. Nowhere did we find any pillows, nowhere any rubber cushions, nowhere any back-rests. In one hospital a man shot in the back was half lying, half sitting, propped up by his overcoat. In another, the orderly begged an air cushion for a man wounded in so many places that he could not stand the weight of his own body. In the great tent where the hospital the floor was of trampled straw. The Medicine Chef said it had been built when they raised the tents a few days ago. Here they asked for liniment to lay beside the beds. Milk was impossible to find, condensed milk almost as difficult to get. (I forgot to tell you that almost everywhere one sees signs which condemn the water in the wells; could they have arsenic, stimulants, blankets, medicaments?) These over-worked surgeons and nurses have no time to write to the various societies, and what they need they need at once. The visits of our Delegates, therefore, are a relief to them. I hope that no wounded in any hospital will suffer for lack of the things we save wanting here. But the thought of the hospitals elsewhere that we had not visited haunted me."

The Union Bank of Canada will gladly receive contributions.

Awful Plight of French Peasants.

With all hope of victory gone the Hun warping puts himself out to pillage, burn and absolutely destroy every piece of territory he occupies previous to examination, believing, presumably, that the unchanging sight of wanton destruction will so depress the heart of his enemy as to force an earlier peace. Harrowing narratives of German barbarism are published in "The French Wounded Emergency Fund Magazine," accounts which fairly take one's breath away. It discloses beyond doubt that the plundering and burning of French villages is premeditated and is part and parcel of the German military programme.

An appeal for money is now being made in the newspapers in behalf of The French Wounded Emergency Fund. This society was found to render emergency relief to destitute and suffering dependents of French soldiers to succor the wounded and to rehabilitate families in the recuperated and devastated portions of France and has as its patron H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught. The French Wounded Emergency Fund follows every advance on the Western front and endeavors to instill a ray of hope in those poor people, who are almost too numb with suffering to realize they are no longer under the heel of the oppressors. It is entirely independent of any other organization and looks to Charity for its support. It is under the authority of the French government, and is the only organization undertaking this particular work.

of restoration. Judging from the names of the prominent people of Winnipeg and Western Canada who have identified themselves with the appeal for funds, a large measure of success should attend the effort. It is worthy of the support of every true citizen and it is to be hoped that a bumper sum of money will be realized. One thing certain: We must one and all now acknowledge the fact that "we must give something."

FLETCHER & SONS

Burdett

Alberta

...Burdett and District...

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Reber asked to Calgary last Monday.

Mr. E. F. Barth is enjoying a visit from his sister.

Messrs. A. Waddell and C. T. McKinnon were visitors to Crowns Nest on Labor Day.

A meeting will be held in the Carnegie school on Tuesday, September 18th, to elect a secretary treasurer.

Messrs. Kerr and Goughy, the new garage experts, report business continues exceptionally good.

Jean Enard has his new four-room cottage now nearly completed. It has erected it in a very pleasing location slightly to the west of the Burdett Mercantile Co.'s new store.

Messrs. S. W. A. W. and R. W. Fletcher with their families visited Mrs. K. Lewellyn at Grassy Lake on Monday night and were the participants of a beautiful duck supper prepared by their genial hostess.

Rev. C. H. Huettis, D.D., gave an admirable address here on Monday night in the Methodist Church, his subject being "War and National Ideals." There was a very large attendance and everyone was immensely pleased with the lecture.

W. O. Lyons, harness-maker, who recently moved here from Grassy Lake, must have a reputation that is worth having. Three men from his former town walked seven miles the other day to have him mend their shoes.

Rev. C. H. Huettis, D.D., secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, who was here over Monday, expressed himself as being highly pleased at the fact of there being no Sunday work undertaken in the neighbourhood. As far as he could see the observance of the Lord's Day was being very carefully observed.

Mr. K. Brown, it seems, is ever expanding. He has now prepared plans for the building of a large warehouse, south of the track, to measure 40 feet by 80 feet. This he is doing to obviate the necessity of assembling his implements out of doors, work which is often retarded by the state of the weather.

Mr. A. Abbott, our local blacksmith, is endeavouring through the Millia Department at Ottawa to get his son over from England for a visit. The latter enlisted with the 10th Regt. at Lethbridge and was one of the first to go overseas in 1914. About twelve months ago he was badly wounded, and has been stationed in England ever since.

Cement Sidewalks.

Burdett Taking Levels for Ambitious Program of Street Improvements.

Mr. Edwards, a surveyor from Foremost, was here the beginning of the week taking levels for the new cement pavement which the residents of Burdett are contemplating laying down. The new sidewalk, if the present arrangement is carried out, will extend from Mr. Brown's new hotel down past his brother's implement store at the corner to the bank building on the east side of Main Street. On the west side it is hoped that the whole of the sidewalk extending from Fletcher's store to the new garage will be included in the improvements. It will, of course, probably take some time to complete arrangements, but the mere fact of this work being now gone on with initiative very clearly that the business men of Burdett have not stopped improving their town. As one of them stated to us, cement paving costs more than the wooden sidewalk to lay down but the difference in cost is more than made up by not only the better appearance of the cement, but more especially by its lasting qualities.

Burdett Has A Board of Trade.

A meeting was held on Monday night for the purpose of organizing a Board of Trade. Owing to counter attractions, the attendance of business men was not quite as large as was expected. Notwithstanding this, however, about fifteen put in an appearance and a fairly successful meeting resulted. The election of officers took place as follows:—President, M. A. Handley; Vice-president, W. O. Lyons; Sec.-treas., C. T. McKinnon. It was decided to hold future meetings on the second and last Mondays of each month.

It is the general hope that now Burdett has a Board of Trade everyone will make it their business to attend and help by their co-operation in furthering schemes that have for their object the benefit of the town. Although officers have been appointed, this does not necessarily mean that the work of the members has been finished. The officers can only carry out their duties satisfactorily if they receive the hearty assistance of every member, and these should both by their presence and help signify their willingness to do this by any means possible.

Customs at Burdett Shows Successful Business.

There are not many aware of the comparatively large business that our little Custom office transacts here. Mr. Elliott keeps fairly busy in his department, not the least important of which perhaps is that relating to enquiries. It would surprise many to learn of the number of people that are continually seeking information on various matters, some of which very often take up considerable time in getting the desired information. The publication of statistics, therefore, although giving one a fairly good idea of the amount of business transacted, does not necessarily show the amount of work done. The revenue, however, of the past twelve months has shown conclusively that the placing of the Customs at Burdett was a wise move. For instance during July the amount collected was $2,623.52. In August it was $1,780.00. For a town the size of Burdett this must be satisfactory to Ottawa.

BLACK OR STEEL RUST OF WHEAT.

"Black rust is responsible for much of the losses to grain in Western Canada. Occasionally epidemics, such as that of 1918, occur and cause a loss of hundreds of millions of dollars to the national wealth." Wheat recently issued by the Division of Botany of the Dominion Experimental Farms, which at once indicates its own importance as well as the disastrous nature of the disease. Although special stress is laid upon the losses experienced in Western Canada, the disease is by no means confined to that section of the country, but might break out anywhere. Thus a study of the bulletin by the agricultural community generally is commended. It purports to be a popular account of the nature, cause and prevention of grain rust and as such it is written in plain but definite language. In the earlier part of the year a card-poster, with a border of descriptive illustrations in colours, was circulated by the Department of Agriculture in Ottawa, giving in brief form precautions that can be taken against the approach of the disease and that might have a minimizing effect later on. The present bulletin which can be had free from the Publications Branch of the Department, amplifies the advice there given and minutely tells how the disease can be identified in its incipency. It describes the red on summer stages and the black or winter stage, the action of the fungus on the host plant and the relation of stem rust to the barley. It also alludes to the fact that with the disappearance of the barley in Denmark, the fungus of rust vanished or perceptibly lessened in extent.

Owing to the increasing cost of paper, and the consequent heavier expenditure it entails upon us, we would ask our subscribers to kindly settle up their arrears. Owing to the fact these arrears are made out once a year, many are inclined to forget all about them, and where there are hundreds of them involved the total amount makes up a not inconsiderable sum.

New machinery and type purchased by the Review recently would make the payment of subscriptions of added value just now. Every letter posted outside of town costs three cents, and to save us again sending out reminders we publish this paragraph in the hope that it will accomplish the desired object. Please respond.
